And who knows but that you have come to the kingdom for such a time as this and for this very occasion? Esther 4:14

Mordecai's question to his cousin Queen Esther was more of a statement than a question. Her appointment to this position was a part of God's divine plan. Positions of leadership and influence are opportunities to show loyalty to God and His purposes for His people. God has chosen this ordinary woman to do an extraordinary task.

Thousands of years later, I bring the same question to you: And who knows but that you have come to leadership for such a time as this and for this very occasion. Your appointment as leaders in women's ministry is a part of God's divine plan. This position of leadership and influence is your opportunity to show loyalty to God and His purposes for His people. God has chosen each one of you to do an extraordinary task.

This is your Esther moment for such a time as this.

The rewards of obedience far outweigh the fear of taking the risk.

Leader: My sisters in Christ will you accept God's call to you as leaders for the women?

Officers: I will accept the call. This is my moment.

Leader: My sisters, will you seek the guidance of the Holy Spirit as you serve the women?

Officers: I will seek and obey the guidance of the Holy Spirit. This is my moment.

Leader: Will you be united in prayer and faith in Jesus Christ as you serve in leadership for the women?

Officers: We will be united in prayer and faith in Jesus Christ.

Leader: Who has called you to leadership for such a time as this and for this very occasion?

Officers: The Lord has called us to leadership for such a time as this and for this very occasion.

ALL: For such a time as this.

Amen.

Call to Worship:

Leader: Awake, Awake, Deborah.

Women: Awake and sing a song.

Leader: Awake, Awake, Mary.

Women: Awake to the blessing you have received.

Leader: Awake, Awake, sisters.

Women: Awake and prepare to receive the Messiah, God with us.
